

June 24, 2012

The Nevada Fire Chiefs Association (NFCA) is in support of The Red Guide to Recovery, a disaster recovery resource, that we feel will provide valuable information to the residents of Nevada that may experience a disaster and recovering from that disaster. The Red Guide to Recovery has been adopted by the Californai Fire Chiefs Association, the California State Fire Marshal, and other emergency management and fire agencies in California.

The NFCA has reviewed the California specific "Red Guide" and it contains valuable information that a citizen can use when having to recover from a disaster. Although a Nevada specific "Red Guide" is not available, the NFCA is in support of developing a Nevada specific one that can be used by Nevada citizens after a disaster. The Red Guide to Recovery for Nevada will help the public deal with the emotional, financial, and physical damage caused by natural disasters. It can serve as a plan for recovery before a disaster actually occurs.

It is our understanding that the author and publisher has offered to seek funding in the form of grants or sponsorships to develop a Nevada "Red Guide." The NFCA accepts that offer and looks forward to to seeing The Red Guide to Recovery for Nevada.

Sincerely,

R. Stacey Giomi
President, NFCA